Maria Elena Angola is a Romanian author and medical doctor based in Croatia. After more than 15 years leading international medical programs across Europe, the Middle East, Africa, and Central Asia, she transitioned from conventional medicine into storytelling and transformational writing. Blending science, spirituality, and human resilience, her work explores healing, identity, and the courage to follow one's inner calling. Educated in medicine, telemedicine, and creative writing, she brings together logic and intuition in a unique voice shaped by dreams, synchronicities, and cross-cultural experiences.
